WINE HOST BIO

Steve Millier, Milliaire Winery

Steve was born in Bakersfield and grew up all over Northern California. His father was an artist, and, from an early age, Steve was with him in the studio. Being part of that creative experience influenced Steve to become a winemaker. Steve has had a long and distinguished career in winemaking. He studied enology and viticulture at Fresno State.

After graduating, he started at David Bruce Winery, located in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Soon after moving from Fresno to Santa Cruz in 1975, Steve met Liz. They have been partners since then. Liz grew up in the Bay Area and graduated from Santa Clara University. She has no formal training in winemaking, but she has the best teacher ever: Steve. Steve feels that winemaking is a "beautiful fusion of art and science" and has a technical understanding of wine as well. His friends joke and call him "Mr. Science."

In 1982 Barden Stevenot invited Steve to come to Murphys as his winemaker. Steve and Liz moved from Santa Cruz to Murphys and never looked back. They welcomed the opportunity to be part of the newly invigorated Sierra Foothills wine industry. They established their own winery in 1983 with the support of generous friends. Milliaire Winery's tasting room is located in the historic Gold Rush town of Murphys.

In 1989 John Kautz hired Steve to be the founding winemaker of Ironstone. Steve feels grateful to be a part of the amazing Ironstone story and continues there today as the Director of Winemaking.
